To the Student Body:

Your yearbook, the Monticols, through which I am sending this message to you, will always be a remembrance of your college days and a tribute to West Virginia University. In the years to come, after you complete your college education and graduate from the University, it will remind you of your college experiences - friends, fraternities and sororities, football and basketball games, a favorite professor, all of the wonderful times at Morgantown. You too will remember, I believe, the lessons you have learned here, social, practical and academic.

I hope that your memory is a constructive one, not simply a reflection on past happiness but a re-dedication to future achievement and to the service of your Alma Mater. You depend on the University for four years or perhaps more; the University depends on you for your lifetime.

I know that this yearbook will help perpetuate this constructive remembrance of West Virginia University. I am proud to be a part of it through this message.

Very sincerely,

Cecil H. Underwood
Governor

CHU/mp

WE INAUGURATE OUR PRESIDENT

To the Class of 1960:

You are going forth from the University much more mature and far better educated than when you came here. You are going forth into a State, a nation and a world which need mature and educated people as never before. Your education will never be complete, but on this campus you have had the opportunity to acquire a great deal of knowledge and understanding and the tools with which to pursue your education on your own initiative through the long future. As University graduates, you will have special opportunities and responsibilities as professional men and women serving your fellow man, as leading citizens in a dynamic democracy, as parents and homemakers, and as individual men and women capable of developing highly and enjoying richly your God-given qualities of spirit and intellect. May you realize all of these potentials to the fullest.

You have reached this milestone in your lives with the aid of countless people, most of whom you have never even seen. Some are great men who have been dead for decades or even centuries; some are plain citizens of West Virginia who have paid taxes without which the University would have had to close its doors; some are dedicated teachers at whose feet you have sat both here and before coming here; some are parents who have aided and encouraged you, and some are your fellow students. To all of these you owe in some measure a very real obligation, which you can best repay by making intelligent and unselfish use of the education you have received and by maintaining a never-ceasing interest in your Alma Mater, giving her your loyalty and support so that she may continue to make possible for those who come after you what she has made possible for you.

Much of the credit, however, for your achievement thus far belongs to you, and I commend you most warmly for the efforts you have expended. As you go forth, the University's blessings and best wishes go with you.

Sincerely,
ELVIS J. STAHR, JR.,
President.

KINGSTON TRIO SELECTS THE QUEEN . . .

The Kingston Trio, favored vocalists of the college set all across the nation, honored the 1960 MONTICOLA by selecting the 1960 MONTICOLA queen and four finalists. While admitting the near impossibility of such a task, they went to work. When the results were received back in Martin Hall the staff was quite pleased with the job our fine judges had done. On the following pages you may check the results of their selection.

MORTAR BOARD

First Row, Sitting: Ann Kitzmiller, Ann Hoke, Harriett Bauld. Second Row: Ruth Ann McLaughlin, Mary DeBerry, Lynne Stewart, Faith Summers, Mary Nan Harris, Helen Ellyson, Amy Stauffer, Jo Conner.

Mortar Board, the national senior womens honorary, was founded on the W.V.U. campus in 1924. The membership is chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service. The loot necessary for operation is gathered from the sale of Mums on Homecoming Weekend. The local group decided to become a service organization rather than an honorary so consequently any married student, no matter what her record of past achievement, will not be tapped in 1960.

Sitting: Phyllis Peregoy, Diane Valentine, Peggy Patton, Mary Lee Keffer. Standing: Ann Sleeth, Jane Temple, Judy Linger, Sara Brawley, Carolyn Lawless, Carolyn Wetzell, Lois Conley, Jane Kane, Marcia Koenigsburg, Patricia Greenlee, Nicci Nardacci.

Chimes, junior women's honorary, selects as its members outstanding sophomore women on the basis of scholarship, service, and leadership. It was established on campus in 1948. Every year Chimes sponsors parties for transfer students, buttonieres sale for Women's Pan, and an award to junior women having a 3.5 or above their sophomore year. It also presents a series of cultural programs and emphasizes scholarships available for students maintaining high scholarship.

First Row: Bob Steele, K. of B.; Charlie Bird, L.H.C.P.; Chuck Dusic, Vice L.H.C.P.; Tom Westfall, K. of C. Second Row: Bob Haden, Homer Cox, Roy Oman, Mike Baer, John Condry. Third Row: John Bucy, Howard Jones, Joe Johnston, Dan Cavanaugh, O. B. Fawley, Bill Shaw, Tom Azinger, Jim Ritchie, Bob Clousson, Bob Allen, Chick Sherwood, Dave Hess, Paul Hobitzell, Carl Dannenberg, Bob Williams, Tiger Morton, Jack Bowman.

Fi Batar Cappar was founded at West Virginia University on March 13, 1914, for the purpose of "boosting" the University. The humble founders adopted as a badge a small square of genuine leather which is emblematical of the goal of college life—the sheepskin. It is fastened to the coat or sweatshirt with a small piece of brass from the ancient brazen calf, the meaning of which is one of the mystical, carefully hidden secrets of this spirit organization.

Alfa chapter has as honorary members such luminaries as Will Rogers, Hal Kemp, Lowell Thomas, Pop Warner, Rat Rodgers, Art Smith, Matthew M. Neely, John Roscoe Turner, Johnny Long, Charlie Hodges, Thomas Ennis, C. T. Neff, Jr., D. A. Burt, Sam Morris, Olaf Crooks, Jimmy Pappa John, and George Blue.

High scholarship, leadership and character mark these men as members of Helvetia. Established on the W. V. U. campus in 1955, this honor society chooses its members from the freshman class.

During their sophomore year they serve the University by assisting during Freshman Orientation, building the Mountaineer for Mountaineer Weekend, and planning the Homecoming Weekend Parade. This year they assisted at the President's Inauguration.

Dr. Harold Kidder sponsors the organization.

On the social side, an annual spring party is held with Li-toon-awa, sophomore women's honorary.

Entering its fifth year on our campus, Spokes continues to give recognition to outstanding women campus leaders. This organization is designed to promote spirit and interest among women students and alumnae towards greater service to the University and the community.

Special projects include sending bulletins to foreign students who have returned to their native countries and a tea for retiring faculty members each spring. This year Spokes assisted in planning the dedication of the Medical Center Teaching Hospital. The symbolic badge of the honorary is a tiny gold wheel pin.

LI-TOON-AWA

Li-toon-awa members are pledged each May in Link Day Ceremonies. This sophomore women's honorary honors freshman women who have met qualifications of scholarship, leadership, character and service. Activities are a social with Helvetia and fall and spring teas for freshmen women. Li-toon-awa sponsors the Freshman Projects Committee and presents an award to an outstanding freshman who meets the four qualifications.

The senior men's honorary, organized on West Virginia University campus in 1909, is dedicated to service to the University. Its membership is composed of men possessing a high quality of leadership, scholarship, and service. Among their activities for the year are the sponsorships of the Sphinx Talent Show, The Mother's Day Sing during Greater West Virginia Weekend, and the providing of ushers for commencement. Sphinx also provides the sponsoring of the Mountaineer Weekend Dance, and the selling of the "coonskin" caps. Sphinx presents annually the Colburn-Smith Award, given to the freshman male who attains the highest scholastic average for his freshman year. Sphinx presents annually at the Mother's Day Sing the awards to the ten freshmen who attained the highest scholastic averages for the previous semester.

PHI MU ALPHA

Phi Mu Alpha, men's music honorary, was organized to provide and give service to the cause of music in America. This year its twenty members promoted a Jazz Concert December 2-3. In order to get acquainted with new students Phi Mu has a smoker in the Fall for freshman music students. Special projects include the American Music Festival and supporting the Annual Composition Festival.

ETA KAPPA NU

Eta Kappa Nu honors electrical engineering students who show a deep interest and marked ability in their chosen life work.

Organized on campus in 1947, this year's 21 members sponsored a loan fund for outstanding electrical engineering freshmen and presented an award to the sophomore in this field with the highest freshman average.

The honorary also takes part in the arrangement for the Engineering Show relative to electrical engineering and holds spring and fall initiation banquets.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

With the "promotion of high ideals embodied in a spirit of professionalism," the men in Alpha Kapa Psi professional commerce fraternity seek to further their educational goals with group projects such as providing tours through local industries, showing films, sponsoring banquets, and furnishing ushers for the annual labor conference.

Special activities which provide service to the University and all students include publishing a placement booklet for graduating seniors, research projects, and the awarding of a scholarship Key to the senior male student in the College of Commerce with the highest scholastic average.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Alphas Psi Omega, dramatics honorary, develops dramatic talent, cultivates an interest in good drama and fosters the cultural values which dramatics develop. Members of this group are students who excell in the dramatic arts. They help with season tickets sales for University Players and sponsor a Senior service award for an outstanding theatre student.

Mr. Sam Boyd, Jr., Sponsor; Luise Loehr, Carolyn Miller Wagner, Carolyn Wetzel, Fred Rowles, Lenette Hardin, Mary Lucille DeBerry, Sara Whanger, Harold Smith, Joe Davis, Ruth Ann Booth. Not Pictured: Margaret Johnson, Janice Conklyn, Bill Huch, Nancy Smithers.

ALPHA TAU ALPHA

Alpha Tau Alpha, national agriculture education honorary, was founded on campus in 1931 with a two-fold purpose of training teachers of agriculture to take their place as community leaders and to provide an atmosphere of fellowship where the members may exchange their ideas and educational views. This group also assists the Northern Federation of the Future Farmers of America with their scholastic and field day activities, publishes an annual news letter and presents a display at the annual Greater West Virginia Weekend Exposition.

MU PHI EPSILON

In 1950, Mu Phi Epsilon, women's music honorary was established. Each year it is started with a tea for freshmen music students and during the year there is a reception for the officers and appearing members. The honorary presents two public concerts every year and helps underprivileged children interested in music. It presents an award of twenty-five dollars at the Annual Composition Festival. Among its service projects are working for Community Concerts and contributing to the Beldon Hart Memorial Fund.

PI DELTA PHI

The Alpha Omicron chapter of Pi Delta Phi, the national French honorary, recognizes merit in the study of the French language, literature and civilization. Social activities include a Christmas party for all members and an annual trip to Pittsburgh. Each year the members present a French play and a soiree in order to foster French culture.

PHI Upsilon OMICRON

The national professional home economics organization came to the campus in 1923 to establish and strengthen bonds of friendship among members.

Through the efforts of the group a $100 scholarship is given to an incoming freshman in home economics. The Lambda Chapter members sponsor a special professional project and sell fruit cakes for Thanksgiving and Christmas. A Yuletide party is held and both actives and alumnae attend the annual initiation and Founders Day dinners.

Mrs. Mary Rose Jones serves as sponsor for the 16 members.

DAILY ATHENAEUM

Since its establishment in 1887, the "Daily Athenaeum" has been the "voice for the campus." Now in its 72nd year, the DA strives to provide complete news coverage and maximum service to the University. It is published four times weekly with special issues for Homecoming, Mountaineer and Greater West Virginia Weekends, and at Graduation. An edition was also published this year on the inauguration of President Elvis J. Stahr, Jr.

A member of the West Virginia Press Association and the Associated Collegiate Press, the DA is a tabloid written and edited by 40 students in the School of Journalism. In addition the DA is a member of UPI wire service to bring students and faculty state, national and international news. Prof. Paul Atkins, journalism is adviser to the paper.

This year the DA inaugurated an off-editorial page to augment editorial opinions of the paper. In addition, there are editors for society, sports, and news. An editorial board, business and photography staff also play large roles in producing the DA.

JOURNALIERS

In April, 1960, Journaliers, a University student organization more than a quarter of a century old closed its books.

Members of the men's journalism honorary became affiliated with Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, and joined the ranks of 72 other undergraduate chapters and 56 professional chapters throughout the United States.

Journaliers was organized at the University in the 1930's to promote scholarship and interest in journalism. Its objectives closely parallel those of Sigma Delta Chi, founded at DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind., in 1909.

1960 MONTICOLA

The 1960 MONTICOLA—unique in organization, complete in coverage of campus events, and noticeably different than any other University yearbook previously published! This was the desire of this year's staff in giving you, the Student Body, a yearbook you will be proud of.

Illuminating the shelf with its bright red cover and breaking all traditions with its humorous art designs, the MONTICOLA stands out—an interesting summary of the years campus events and activities.

The Editor, Business Manager, and staff, under the capable advisorship of Dr. Patrick Gainer, have worked hard for little reward but feel that their endeavors have not been wasted.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

JACK "THE MAST" BOWMAN
President of the Student Body

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Executive Council is composed of the president and vice-president of the student body and the president and vice-president of each class.

The executive branch is responsible to the president of the student body and its actions are subject to the approval or disapproval of the Legislature.

The duty of the Executive Council is to carry out specific and detailed tasks in the areas of Student Government Commission, Student Affairs Commission, Educational Affairs Commission and the International Affairs Commission. Most of Executive Council work is devoted to carrying out the policies and programs established by the Legislature in presenting new ideas for legislative consideration. Fundamental to the function of Executive Council is the continual development of a permanent committee system; all appointments originate within the group and are sent to the Legislature for approval or rejection.

STUDENT LEGISLATURE

Student Legislature, the policy-making branch of Student Government, is composed of representatives elected from each college and school of the University.

The Legislature has power to make all regulations necessary to promote properly the general welfare of the Student Body.

Legislative function is essentially a deliberative one. It concerns itself with the establishment of meaningful programs, the resolution of immediate and crucial issues, and the general direction of student activity.

Among the many projects of Student Legislature are: ratification or rejection of all appointments proposed by the Executive Council, establishment of rules governing freshman traditions, appropriation of Student Government funds, reduction in the price of football tickets for married students' wives, a study of the housing situation and investigations.

Speaker: Bernie Schramm; Secretary: Judy Fisher

STUDENT COURT

The Student Court is the chief regulating body in Student Government. As the judicial branch, the court has final authority on questions of a legal nature that arise within Student Government. It has the final word in constitutional issues and recommendatory power in disciplinary cases, such as offenders of University regulations. The Court is empowered to try cases of violation of Freshman traditions and cases of conduct unbecoming a lady or gentleman.

It has the authority to promulgate rules and regulations when the necessity arises. This authority is used with restraint and in conformity with constitutional guarantees, so as to promote the maximum degree of responsible freedom.

Its membership includes: the Summit of Mountain, ranking men's honorary; the Emperor of Sphinx, senior men's honorary; the President of Mortar Board, the president of A.W.S., plus three members appointed by the student body president from groups of second or third year law classes, Men's Hall Proctor's Council, and Women's Hall Advisory Boards.

AWARENESS COMMISSION

The Awareness Committees are Student Government's official contacts with the outside world. Studying problems, discussing them in seminars and talks, and calling in authorities to lead these studies—the State, National, and International Awarenesses contribute much to a well-rounded Student Government.

AUXILIARY AGENCIES

The Auxiliary Committees, Public Relations, Publicity, and Elections constitute the very backbone of good Student Government Relations. The artistic and distributing abilities of the Publicity Committee have kept the campus alert to Student Government activities, and the current era of good will prevailing in our local community is largely a result of the work of the Public Relations Committee. The proper execution of all Student Government elections is due to the organization and administration of the Elections Committee.

COORDINATOR OF WEEKENDS AND EVENTS

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

Associated Women Students is the governing body of the women on the campus of West Virginia University. The members include all women students enrolled in the University. Under the able and capable leadership of Jo Conner, bermudas were approved for Saturday afternoons. The rumor is that they will be approved for classes next. AWS is government and regulation by your peers. How quaint and democratic! This aspiring group, reputedly richer than the Phi Psis, sponsors Golddiggers Weekend, the AWS Merry-Go-Round, publishes a rules book for their constituents, and holds indoctrination meetings for Freshmen women.

SHOWBOAT WEEKEND

The school year, 1959-1960, found the women of A.W.S. launching Gold-diggers Weekend.

On Friday Night the sorority houses and dormitories were the scene of dinner parties, theme parties, dances, and open houses.

Saturday evening, the girls escorted their dates to dinner and then to the traditional "Golddiggers Ball." For the celebration Mountainlair was converted into a gigantic saloon called the "Brass Rail." To set the western mood the ballroom was decorated with murals of dance hall girls and a wagon wheel of lantern lights. Glass beer mugs were given to the men as favors.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the "Biggest Nugget" who had been elected by popular vote of the women students.

CAVALETTES

Cavalettes is organized around the aims of aiding in the full development and adjustment of Independent Women Students on our campus. Organized here in 1957, this group seeks to be a creative factor not only in personal growth but to the entire academic community.

The fifty-seven members of this organization share in such projects as the Sphinx Talent Show, erection of a Queen's Float for Homecoming and the Gossamer Ball, which is the main social activity of the year for the group.

CAVALIERS

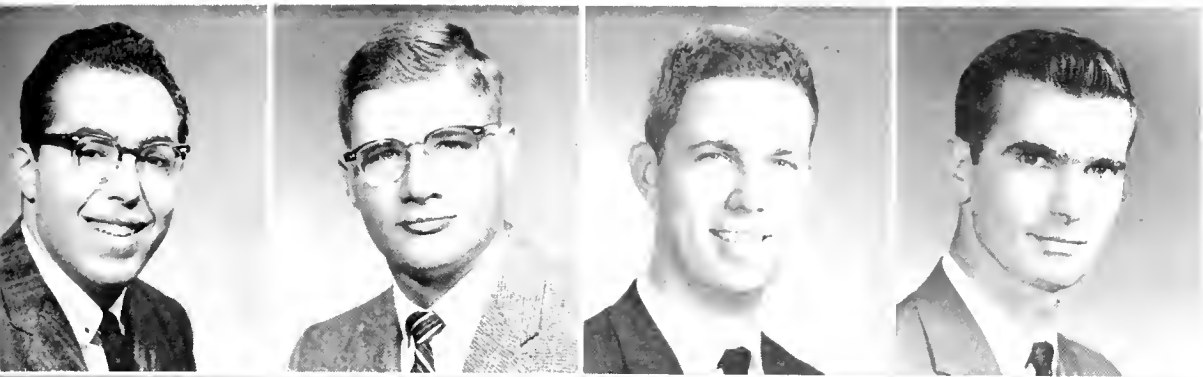

Cavaliers, independent men's organization, was introduced to the W.V.U. campus in the fall of 1957. Cavaliers and Cavalettes, the sister organization, began as separate groups of the independent student association. In the 1959 fall semester, the Independent Student Association was dissolved and Cavaliers was recognized on campus as an organization.

Cavaliers is a social-service organization. This year Cavaliers built the mountaineer statue as it had in previous years, and in cooperation with Cavalettes built and decorated the Queen's float for Homecoming Weekend. It sounds like more work than fun, but ask any member who has attended one of their parties or other social functions and he will assure you there is plenty of fun.

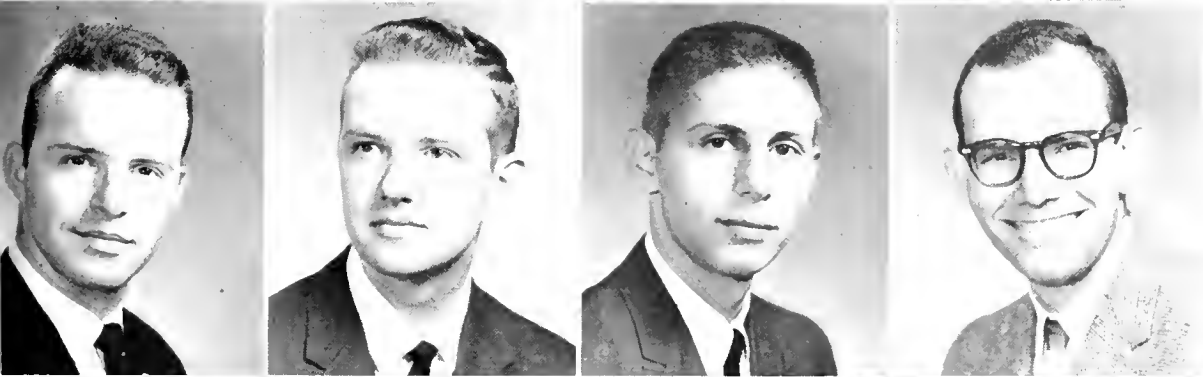

The group also has several dances and participates in the annual Sphinx Talent Show.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Composed of home economics students, this organization strives to provide for the professional development of college home economics students and to promote better faculty-student relations.

Affiliated with the American Home Economics Association, each year the club sponsors an FHA Convention and sends a delegate to the State Home Economics Convention and Jackson's Mill. In addition to this multi-fold program, these women participate in various charitable and social endeavors.

PRESS CLUB

Thirty-six pre-journalism students became the first members of the newly-organized Press Club in September.

Through monthly meetings and parties with the School of Journalism, freshmen and sophomores are able to become acquainted with the School of Journalism and their classmates.

The group this year sponsored the annual Christmas party for the "J" school. Professor Donovan Bond sponsors the club.

S. N. E. A.

Student National Education Association is organized to aid prospective teachers in preparation for their chosen careers by giving them professional attitudes and insights.

This year's social activities include a Christmas Party and a Spring Picnic. Special projects the group participated in include: Science Fair during the Greater West Virginia Weekend, drama clubs, remedial reading and FTA clubs in high schools throughout West Virginia.

UNIVERSITY 4-H CLUB

"To further the development of leadership and to provide congenial social-recreational activities" is the purpose of the University 4-H Club. Organized on the W.V.U. campus in 1927, this 50-member organization sponsors the Scotts' Run 4-H Club, participates in the High School Host Program and develops the spirit of leadership in its members through recreational activities such as the Spring Retreat and providing a reception for the State Dairy Princess chosen annually.

The 4-H Club meets bimonthly on the first and third Sundays at 2:30 P.M. in the University Student Union.

DAIRY SCIENCE CLUB

Organized in 1921, the Dairy Science Club has the development of the techniques of educational research in the Dairy Sciences as its purpose. Among its many service projects are the functions of playing active host to the annual Dairy Cattle Congress, sponsoring the W.V.U. Dairy Cattle Judging Team, and to provide means of purposeful experience in the lines of agricultural advancement to its members. Highlighted socially by the annual picnic and awards banquet, this group consistently provides both interesting and current views on latest advancements in the Dairy Sciences.

SOCIETY FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF MANAGEMENT

The Society for the Advancement of Management was organized in April 1956 for the purpose of providing management students the opportunity to participate in the planning, directing, and controlling of business organization. Its 30 members are dedicated to the promotion and advancement of the art and science of management. Through its annual projects of plant and business towns, it attempts to familiarize its members with each phase of management organization. Social activities which highlight the calendar are the pledge banquets, annual picnic and a variety of informative speakers.

Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian Association was organized in 1906 with the purpose of realizing a full and creative life of Love, Honor, and Truth through a growing knowledge of God. Their pride is in the development of all their members through service projects such as sponsoring the Thanksgiving convocation, the Christmas pageant, and Freshman Week Vespers. Special activities also include participation in Life Week with the Y.M.C.A., the distribution of "Y" datebooks, Valentine candy, and flowers for the Mother's Day festivities. Sponsored by Miss Carolyn Feagans, the Y.W.C.A. now has over 400 members, holds a coffee "break" in the "Y" lounge each Wednesday and Thursday morning from 9:30-10:00.

Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association, formed on W.V.U.'s campus in 1873, has provided an educational and social outlet in an atmosphere of Christian organization. Among its many projects dedicated to the University and the Community have been the Campus and orphan children's Christmas parties, dances and parties for members and dates, exchange dinners with the Y.W.C.A., and sponsoring the annual basketball team for tournament play in competition with Pittsburgh Y's. In a more serious vein the activities include various social projects and a dinner for pre-ministerial students who seek active participation in community affairs.

BETA ALPHA PSI

Organized on our campus in 1957, Beta Alpha Psi, professional honorary in accounting, seeks to encourage and foster the ideal of service as the basis of the accounting profession, to promote the study of accounting and its highest ethical standards, and to develop high moral, scholastic, and professional attainment in its members.

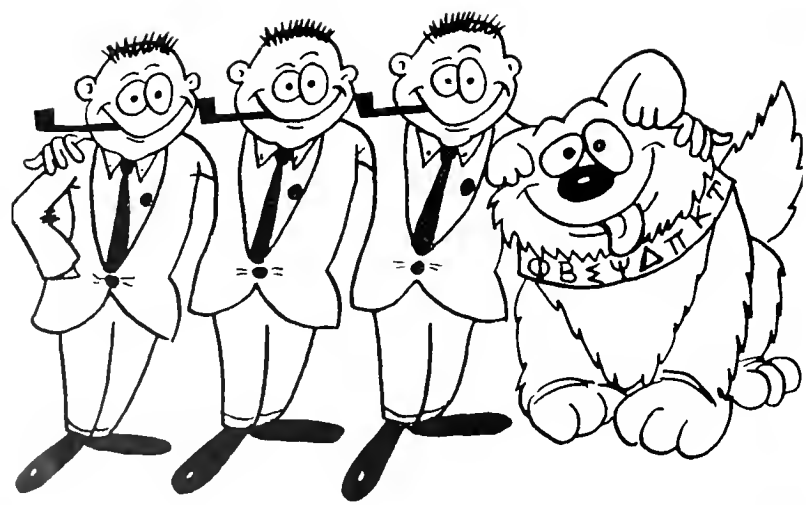

Tutoring sessions and preparation of a chapter directory are some of the special projects of the group. Social functions include banquets, dinner meetings and a spring picnic.

WOMEN'S PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

Woman's Panhellenic Council, composed of a junior and senior representative from each of the ten national sororities on our campus, has as its goal the promotion of greater cooperation among sororities. The success of this goal is seen in the efficient regulation of sorority rushing and the encouragement of high scholarship. In addition to the publishing of a rush week pamphlet for prospective sorority pledges, Panhel sponsors scholarship trophies for both the best pledge class and sorority average. One of the enjoyable events of first semester was the Woman's Pan, featuring Buddy Morrow and his Orchestra, and Panhel also cooperates with the Inter-Fraternity Council in the planning of Greek Week activities. In addition, the Council sponsors Junior Panhellenic, composed of two pledges from each member sorority, which serves to train future leaders through the various duties and responsibilities.

ALPHA DELTA PI

The Adelphean Society, the Alpha Delta Pi forerunner, founded in 1851, was the first society for college women. Alpha Upsilon chapter of Alpha Delta (the Pi disappeared some time last fall) was installed on the W.V.U. campus in 1924, and moved into the new Prospect pad in the fall of 1958. Among the busy A D Pi's on campus is the Mountainlair leader and Student Party secretary. Rushees are served tea from the intramural trophy, and the sisters and their guests really swing at the Black Diamond Formal in April.

ALPHA PHI

Beta Iota chapter of Alpha Phi arrived on campus in 1930, fifty-eight years after the sorority's national founding at Syracuse in 1872. Today the "comrades" are as busy as Peanut's Lucy, and as a result, the alums are considering a trophy case for all the loot. On campus, the Alpha Phi's are well represented in practically every phase of the extra-curricular, and the chapter finds time locally to assist at Vincent Pallotti and on the Heart Fund.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Just above the "travel at your own risk" sign on Spruce Street is Iota chapter of Alpha Xi Delta, the first sorority to establish at WVU. While claiming the most intellectual pledge classes, the active chapter does its part by providing leadership in University honoraries and organizations. All are working to retire the Mother's Day Sing trophy that has been theirs for two years in a row. The "Fuzzies" entertain at Christmas and informal parties, and springtime is Rose Formal time for the wearers of the quill.

CHI OMEGA

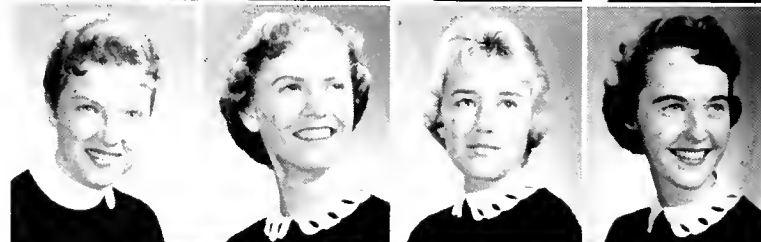

In its 55th year at W.V.U., Theta chapter of Chi Omega is managing to do well in everything it attempts. The scholarly sisters have led in that department for two years running, and this year maintained a 4. in Floatbuilding 59 and Talent 60, the latter to no one's "surprise." The philanthropy program included giving a home to the homeless Delts, and socially the Spring Formal headed the list.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

An important event (for Tri-Delts) of 1888 at Boston University was the founding of Delta Delta Delta sorority, which 67 years later established Phi Iota chapter at W.V.U. Since Nick's closed, the Spruce Street chapter house has been the scene of an increased social program, including the Pansy Breakfast for seniors. Among the successful floatbuilders (first place at Homecoming) are the Pan-Hel and Mortar Board presidents.

DELTA GAMMA

The year 1873 marked the entrance of Delta Gamma on the sorority scene, at Lewis School, in Mississippi. A half-century later, in 1922, Alpha Xi chapter received its charter at W.V.U. Among the active on campus this year are the Student Body veep, a coordinator, a cheerleader, and members of the various University honoraries. Talent Show hopes faded in '60, but the appearance of a real "Hanna" made the Anchor-wearers smile.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Our newest Greeks, installed here early in 1959, are the sisters of Alpha Pi chapter of Gamma Phi Beta. Flourishing after moving into the Spruce Street chapter house, the sorority gained a twenty-two member pledge class and conducted a varied social season. In fact, Santa came to Gamma Phi Beta Land and stayed around for the Carnation Cotillion in the spring.

KAPPA DELTA

Entering its second decade at the University is Beta Chi chapter of Kappa Delta. This national sorority was founded at Longwood College in 1897 and at W.V.U. in 1950. Among the sociable sisters is the Senior Class veep, Dolphin and Orchesis secretaries, and the A.W.S. chancellor of the exchequer. The Mr. Esquire Formal is held in May, where the K D's double as pulchritudinous Petty girls.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

The second national sorority to be founded at Illinois' Monmouth College was Kappa Kappa Gamma, an 1870 product. In 1906, the alums found enough "Kappalike" young ladies at W.V.U. to establish the present Beta Upsilon chapter. In addition to winning places in the Sing and Talent Show, the Kappas were high in scholarship and served in many University activities and events in the past year. The golden key indicates "I'm a Kappa Kappa Gamma."

PI BETA PHI

Monmouth College in Illinois was rocked in 1867 by the founding of Pi Beta Phi sorority, just as was W.V.U. in 1918 by the installation of Pi Phi's West Virginia Alpha chapter. But all went well and except for unavoidable disappearances of the arrow, the W.V.U. chapter entered 1960 in fine shape. The TGIF coordinators can be especially proud of their 4 West Point pledges and the Leap Year acquisition of Charlie Kiser.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

"The regulation of all inter-fraternal activities and the investigation and solving of problems common to them as a group." This is the purpose of the Inter-Fraternity Council, made up of two representatives from each of the nineteen W.V.U. social fraternities. Criticized by member fraternities and the University administration alike, the I.F.C. worked to develop an acceptable rush week program, scholarship program, and Universal Initiation Week. It also sought to strengthen the Council by a more rigid method of selecting representatives from the member Greeks. Under the capable leadership of Steve King, I.F.C. can count 1960 a year of needed progress for the fraternity system—largely through its efforts.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO

Alpha Gamma Rho, unique among W.V.U. fraternities in that the membership is selected from students majoring in agriculture and forestry, was founded on our campus in 1924. The AGRs maintain high scholarship and actively participate in University activities, especially in agriculture and forestry honoraries and organizations. The Christmas party makes first semester finals bearable; the Spring Picnic is in the forest prime evil, and the Pink Rose Formal closes out the social season.

ALPHA PHI DELTA

Clinging to the side of the hill at 658 Spruce Street is the home of Pi chapter of Alpha Phi Delta. The chapter was established on campus in 1923, became active during World War II, but was firmly reactivated in 1948. Toward the end of April, they hold the Carnation Ball and sign the pledge the next morning. When "Crud" graduated, the W.V.U. Mafia organization collapsed, but the Alpha Phi Deltas still have the distinction of being one of two fraternities the administration trusts next door to a sorority.

BETA THETA PI

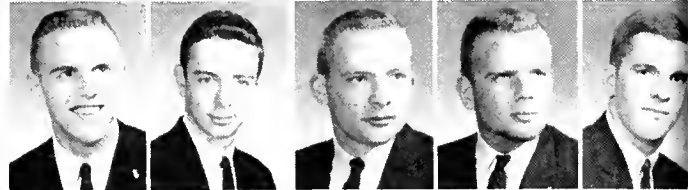

The oldest nationally among W.V.U. fraternities, Beta Theta Pi was founded in 1839 as the first member of the Miami Triad. 1960 marks Beta Psi chapter's 60th year at the University, with brothers representing her in practically every honorary, organization, and event. Socially, the Beta Barn Party and the Bohemian brawl are slightly notorious, while the Betas and their guests turn Triad into a lost weekend in May. Beta is expressed in several well-known campus songs.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Gamma Delta chapter of Delta Tau Delta celebrates its 100th anniversary this year as that Fraternity's oldest chapter in existence. The Delts, with Ozzie leading the way, provide leadership on the drill field, in the Sophomore class, Spiriteers, and Helvetia, as well as the all-important toe for the Mountaineers. The brothers wish to thank Jimmie's and the Chi O's for giving comfort in their time of tribulation.

KAPPA ALPHA

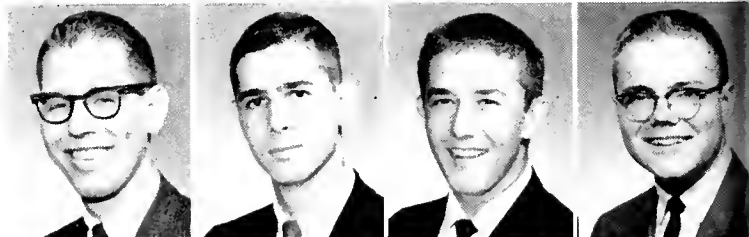

In December of 1865, Kappa Alpha Order was founded at Lexington, Va., while Jonah Jones played the Washington & Lee Swing and Dixie. Thirty-two years later, the Order established Alpha Rho chapter here, and, except for a brief period in 1959, the Rebel Yell has indicated a KA is present. Among their number is the Mountaineer, the I.F.C. president, Freshman president, and the University Players' singing comic. KA secedes from the United States at Old South time in the spring.

KAPPA SIGMA

Fifty years after the national foundation of Kappa Sigma fraternity at the University of Virginia in 1869, Gamma Phi chapter became a W.V.U. reality in 1918. Presently holding forth at the Joker and on the hill, the brothers have placed in many competitive events in the past year, and the wheels among them coordinated Homecoming and edited the "Daily A." The Kappa Sig's quaint tradition of well-dunking makes pinning a dangerous pastime.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

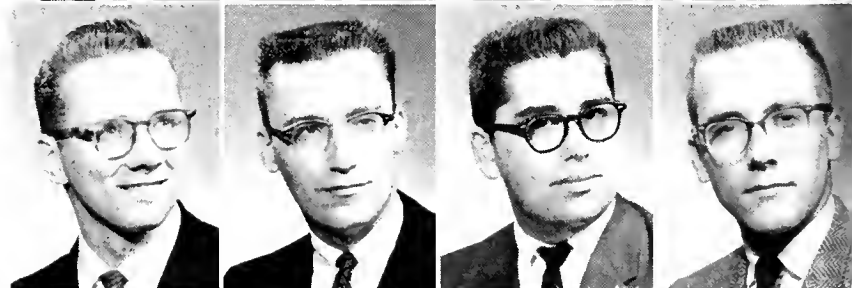

The largest national fraternity on our campus is Lambda Chi Alpha, which has established 143 chapters since its founding in 1909 at Boston University. A permanent chapter, Iota Lambda Chi, was established at the University in 1953. The Lambda Chis made a splash in the Talent Show with their answer to the "Saturday Evening Post," donned sheets for a Greek Party, and climaxed the year with the Crescent Formal in April. The brothers proceeded carefully in choosing party names this year.

PHI DELTA THETA

Phi Delta Theta, boasting the most active ladies auxiliary on campus, (She Delta Theta) is the second member of the Miami Triad and was installed here in 1927. PHI KAPPA PSI

Overlooking the city from the "Spruce and Goose" vantage point, West Virginia Alpha of Phi Kappa Psi enters its eighth decade on our campus. After a frantic search for enough pledge pins, the Phi Psis still found the energy to build the Homecoming float trophy winner, and Mahan's mayhem brings home the Sphinx Talent Show bacon. The fraternity is well known on campus and their biggest wheel soon hopes to publish a revised version of "Two Years Before the Mast."

PHI KAPPA SIGMA

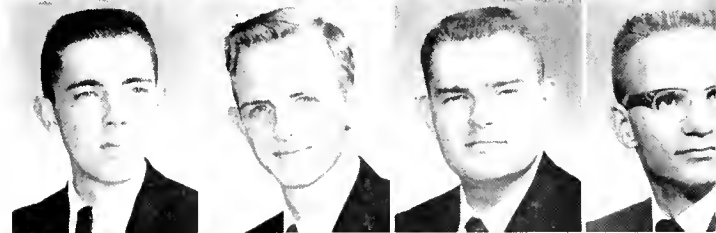

In 1850, the City of Brotherly Love gave the Greek world Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity, which, in turn, established Alpha Gamma chapter here in the middle of the Gay Nineties. "Courtney and Company Swings to Second in Sphinx" was the headline that made the Phi Kaps proud following the Talent Show. The brothers of the Skull, with nothing better to do than party, threw the Black and Gold Formal in April, the summit of the social season.

PHI SIGMA DELTA

From Gotham and Columbia University in 1909 came Phi Sigma Delta fraternity, which installed its Upsilon chapter at W.V.U. in 1927. The first party in the fall, the Pi Lam wake, was noteworthy, as was their mountaineer Weekend house decoration which took the cup. 5:30 a.m. permission was declared for the May affair, the Spruce Streeters' social curtain dropper.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

Massachusetts Agricultural College, March 15, 1853—a day like all days, except—Phi Sigma Kappa was there. And in 1891, Delta chapter became a part of the W.V.U. scene. True to the tradition of the Viking Party, the Phi Sigs repeated in '60 with an Arabian orgy of note, and the Moonlight Formal in May "ended" the social season. The 1959 All-Year Cup winners could grasp it again this year. The Phi Sigs are also the Row's defending champions in water battling.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Pi Kappa Alpha, founded in 1868 at the University of Virginia, established its Alpha Theta chapter on our campus in 1904. It is one of the largest national Greek groups represented at W.V.U., with 115 active chapters. The local Pi K A's annually disguise their Campus Drive pad on the fall weekends and make their presence known with that damn bell. The brothers teamed up with a cold front to "snow" Dream Girl Formal guests in March.

SIGMA CHI

At the top of High Street's fraternity row is Mu Mu chapter of Sigma Chi, the third member of the Miami Triad. Sigma Chi enters its 65th year at W.V.U. with visions of a new chapter house, so the present one is given over in the fall to Sadie Hawkins characters and the illustrious "Cave," and in the spring to the water-battlers who challenge the rest of the row. By their active participation in University events, the Sigs are, in their serious moments, capable workers and respected competitors.

SIGMA NU

Founded at "the Rock" in 1869, Sigma Nu fraternity established Gamma Pi chapter on the University campus in 1904. Moving up the hill to louse up the Betas' view in 1954, the brothers took to the stage and promptly crowded their mantel with Sphinx cups. Several brothers are active in varsity athletics, and the athletic manager, armed with several pledge pins, has kept Sigma Nu consistently high in All-Year Cup competition. The White Rose Formal, held in late April, is the year's social highlight.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

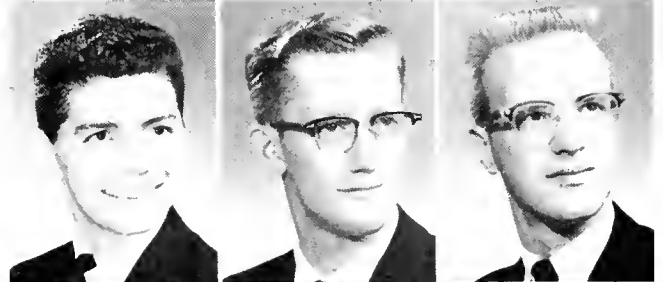

Rho chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon, arriving on the W.V.U. scene in 1923, was established a quarter of a century after the Fraternity's national foundation at Illinois Wesleyan. Hearing that it pays to advertize, the brothers erected a shining "TKE" landmark, lighting the way up Spruce Street for Greek Week party-hoppers who attend their Bowery Ball. The Tekes shape up at Red Carnation Formal time, and support their leader and coordinator by staying "spirited" until Spring Spree.

THETA CHI

Another member of the Spruce Street Alpine Club is Alpha Kappa chapter of Theta Chi, established here in 1921, and later reactivated in 1949. Something went wrong last year and the men of Theta Chi found themselves on top in the fraternity scholarship race, but this will soon be corrected: a new social chairman has been chosen and the Spring Formal is scheduled for final week. Otherwise, Theta Chi is in top condition and hopes to win the B-League All-Year trophy again.

HOMECOMING WEEKEND • 1959

This year's Homecoming Weekend was caught up in a whirl of activities ranging from a parade, thuse, and dance to, of course, the victory over arch-rival Pitt.

The halftime period heralded the beauty of the queen and her court plus the excitement of the Pitt Panther's feud with the Mountaineer.

DEPARTMENT OF ATHLETICS

Athletic Director—West Virginia University "Red" Brown

Through the leadership of the late Roy M. "Legs" Hawley and the present Director of Athletics, Robert "Red" Brown, West Virginia has made gigantic strides toward becoming a national leader in the sports field.

Since 1942, when the West Virginia University basketball team captured the NIT trophy and became known as the "Cinderella" team, athletics have been on the rise at WVU. The football team of 1954 received a Sugar Bowl bid, and the team of '55 produced two great All-Americans. With the enrollment of future All-Americans in 1953 and again in 1956, the basketball team continued as a dominating power among national leaders. The number one team in the country made its home in Morgantown in 1958, and last year, the runner-up in the NCAA Tournament was none other than the WVU Mountaineers. In the past several years minor sports have also come into their own, as a result of added emphasis on their importance in collegiate athletics.

The job of getting a team before the public eye is handled by Eddie Barrett—the personable young Publicity Director for the Mountaineers. Publicity, in the form of pictures, press releases, and information, is one phase of the sports world which can make or break a good team; our publicity is making great teams.

Although thirteen is considered to be unlucky, this is the number of years "Whitey" Gwynne has been caretaker and trainer of WVU athletic teams. Dr. John Lawless is in his third year as team physician.

The fine jobs that Fred Schaus and Art Lewis have been doing recently in recruiting athletes for basketball and football have produced many a winning team. Although the previous football season was not a winning one, prospects appear bright for next year. The renewing of old rivalries and the signing of new national powers on the Mountaineer schedules have added new interest to athletics at West Virginia.

With the work of the Department of Athletics and the spirit of students and alumnae, West Virginia has broken the ice and thawed out its title of an "also-ran" team.

CHEERLEADERS AND MOUNTAINEER

The Mountaineer is the symbol of the University. He is symbolic of the ruggedness and courage of his past counterparts. The sound of his long rifle is familiar to every W.V.U. fan and is rapidly becoming a trademark all over the nation as the fame of Mountaineer teams spreads. The Mountaineer symbolizes everything concerning the University. As long as West Virginia University exists there will be a Mountaineer and a Mountaineer Spirit in the student body.

Sharing the spirit chore are the cheerleaders, a very able and capable group. The cheerleaders are always in front of the fans and behind the team. At times they are given support and at times they are alone in their enthusiastic endeavors. This does not dampen their "Mountaineer Spirit," however. Their morale-building efforts are constant and unchanging.

MOUNTAINEER DAVE ELLIS

SPIRITEERS

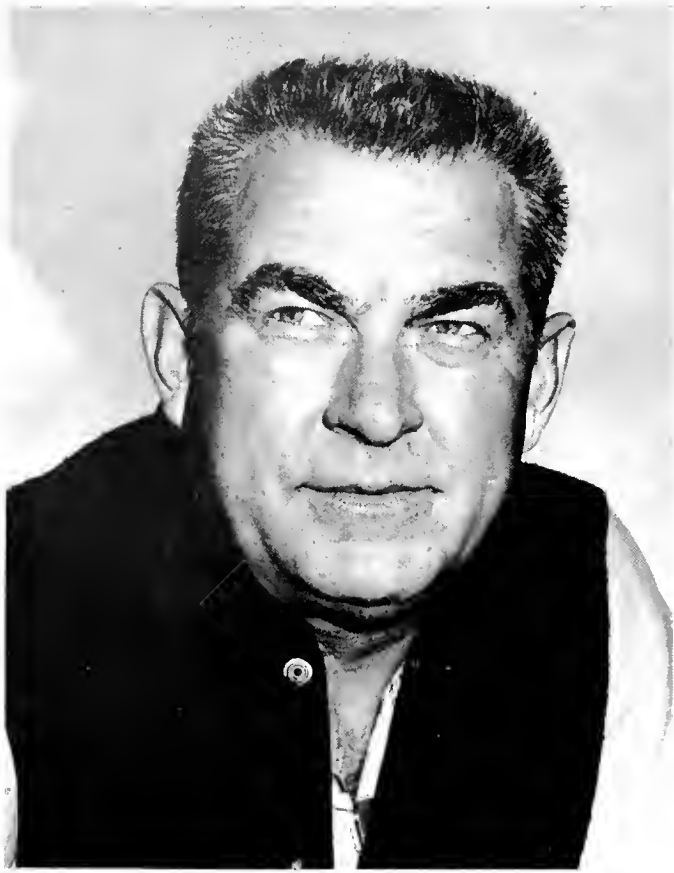

The Spiriteers is the name given to the flash card section that performs at all home football games. Spiriteers is a project of student government and is financed by the Athletic Department. The purpose of Spiriteers is to promote school spirit and induce pride in the student body of West Virginia University from those who witness the group in action. Although hampered by bad weather and poor crowd turnouts, the Spiriteers Steering Committee, led by Doug Adams, did an excellent job and deserves a great deal of credit for their efforts.

1 9 5 9 F O O T B A L L S E A S O N

This was a season which many West Virginians would like to forget, particularly Coach Art "Pappy" Lewis. His charges posted the worst record that a team has ended with since "Pappy" came here ten years ago (3-7). Not all was lost on the gridiron for the "knights" gained experience and learned what to expect during the next seasons of football.

A West Virginia team hadn't been held under one hundred points in nearly twenty seasons and not since 1910 had it not scored fewer than the total of seventy-four points. Art Lewis' tenth West Virginia squad rolled 225.1 yards per game on total offense, but only 7.4 points—the lowest scoring by a West Virginia University team since 1910. The opposition gained 295 yards per game and scored 20.4 points, highest since 1950. During this long, miserable season West Virginia lost the nation's longest conference football winning streak to Virginia Tech.

With the ending by Nebraska of Oklahoma's Big Eight string, Art Lewis' Mountaineers were the longest reigning kings of any conference with their

YOU CAN'T CATCH ME. Rider sidesteps a Pitt tackler and moves out smartly

SURPRISE, CHUM! Bob Hess stops a Pitt play before it gets started 30-game streak extending over eight years. Their closest game before defeat came in last year's Virginia Tech game, 21-20.

All was not unsuccessful during this past football season. The "Mounties" won the big game over Pitt. That in itself is a job that was done to perfection.

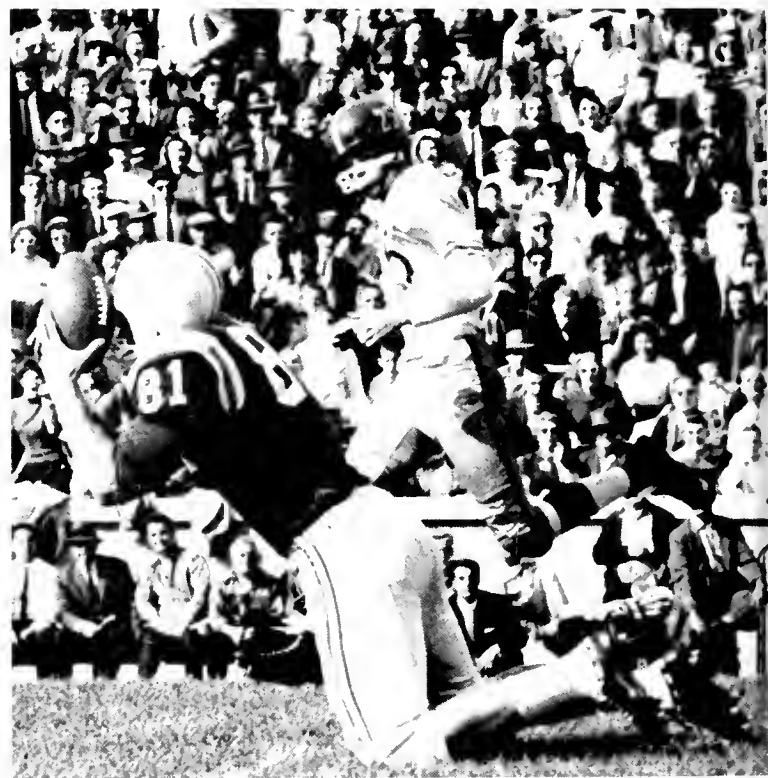

This year's team was a "green" one. Lewis had only eight seniors on the squad. Many a sophomore and junior got a lot of valuable experience.

The eight seniors Lewis had were Bill Lopasky, Ray Peterson, Jerry Keeney, Ben McComb, Dave Rider, Carl Dannenberg, John Thackston and Joe Wirth.

There were three standouts on the squad, Bill Lopasky, Ray Peterson and John Thackston.

West Virginia's "Hard Coal" lineman (Lopasky), so called because he hails from the bituminous coal region of eastern Pennsylvania, played against both favorites for All-American at guard, Mike McKeever of Southern California and Roger Davis of Syracuse. He did a better than fair job against them himself.

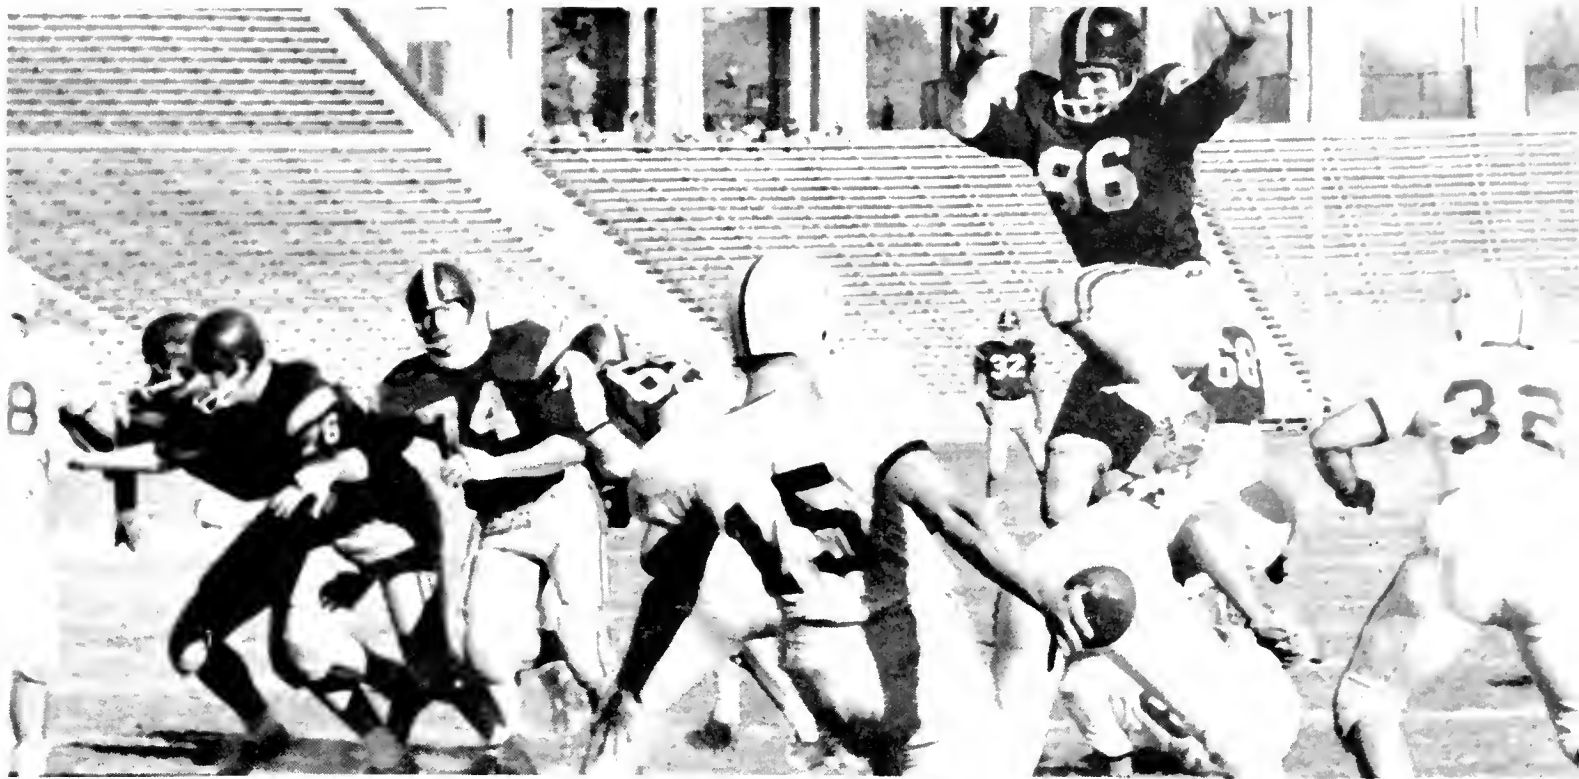

"Hard Coal," a bonus-built 233-pound six-footer, who got that way digging graves back home in Lehman, Pa., came out of games with great respect for his opponents.

COME TO ME BABY. Ben McComb makes a beautiful grab of a Williams pass as a Pitt defender looks on.

HEY! WHO LET THESE GUYS IN HERE? Pete Tolley, Bob Benke and Bob Hess team up to throw Pitt for a loss.

UP AND OVER. Marlin McKeever comes over the line to block Danny Williams' punt.

END OF THE LINE, CHUM. Hess, Benke and Lopasky team up to stop a Pitt play at the line.

Lopasky feels he played his best football in West Virginia's victory over Pitt. "That was my best for offense. Blocking that punt against Oklahoma (last season) to score a touchdown was the greatest thrill of my football career, because the game was my first starting assignment. But the victory over Pitt made me feel best."

Coach Art Lewis rated "Hard Coal" Lopasky as the Mountaineers' top lineman of the 1959 season.

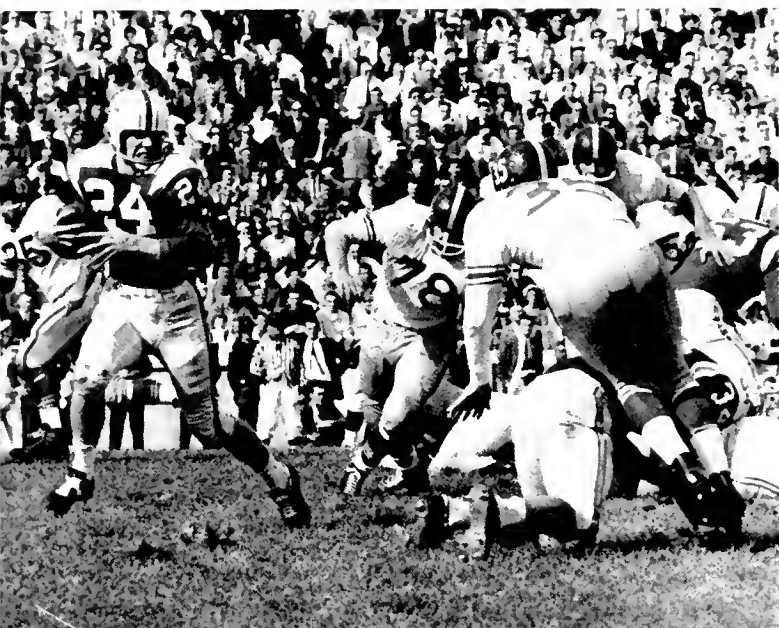

"Ray Peterson, considering everything a player has to do both on offense and defense, was our best back," said Lewis.

Peterson, West Virginia's leading rusher this year and last, didn't have much opportunity to show his tremendous speed but became a workhorse in the backfield. He carried the ball 505 yards in 116 scrimmage plays, caught passes, punts and kickoffs, blocked and played defense especially against passes with equal effectiveness against the stiffest kind of opposition.

The Falls Church, Virginian accumulated 1,232 yards rushing during his varsity career to rank third in the standings since World War II.

Peterson more than doubled the rushing total of the runner-up Mountaineer John "Tuffy" Marra (505-219).

For consistency of performance, as well as outstanding ability, guard Bill Lopasky and halfback Ray Peterson were the most deserving of recognition on West Virginia's 1959 football team.

Another standout, although he didn't play as much football as Lopasky and Peterson, is place-kicker Johnny Thackston. Little "Golden Toe" (Thackston) led all scorers with his 18 points on six extra point conversions and four field goals. If "Goldie" was there with the team we would not have won those three games. "Goldie" came in the Richmond, George Washington and Pitt games to put them on ice.

The first test for Lewis' young team was Maryland. This war took place at College Park, Maryland. We dropped this heartbreaker by the score of 27-7.

All is not told by the score. West Virginia pushed Maryland all over the field but just could not push them through the goal posts enough times. Through unlucky breaks against our fighting "Mounties" the Marylanders outscored us. This was a department that outdid ours and those were few. Novac (Maryland quarterback) completed 18 out of 23 passes to help sink the "Mounties."

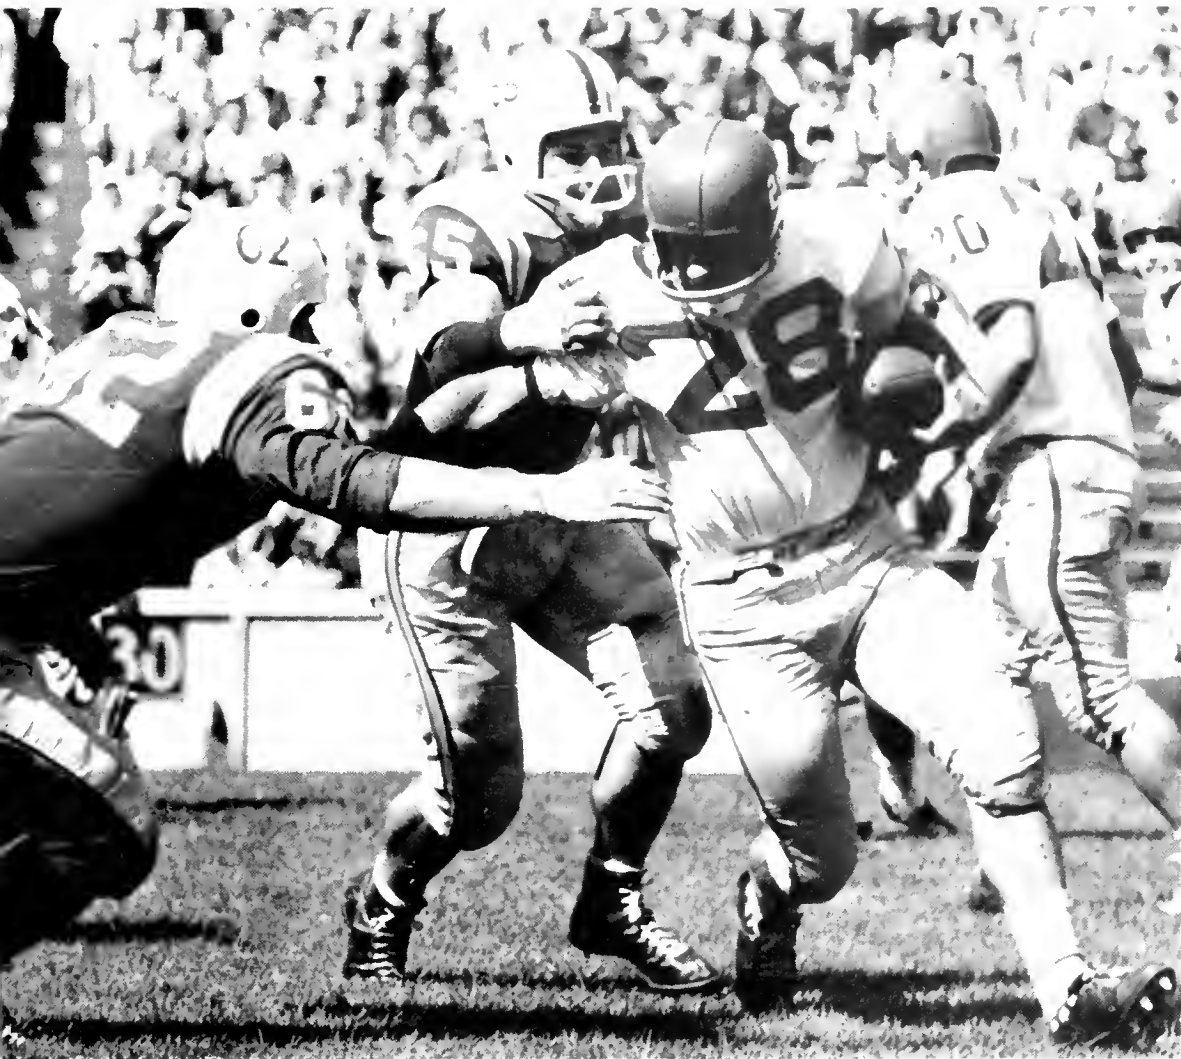

The following week-end the Mounties were still seeking their first win. This game was played in 78° temperature, not exactly ideal football weather.

After a quarter of pushing each other around the field, West Virginia drew first blood. The half ended West Virginia 7, Richmond 0.

A BRIGHT SPOT IN A DARK SEASON. Mountaineer Place Kicker, John "Goldentoe" Thackston.

MAN, YOU'RE NOWHERE. Bill Lopasky and Carl Dannenberg stop a Pitt back for no gain.

Richmond came on the field looking like a new team. They scored in the early moments of the third quarter, added the conversion and tied the old ball game at 7-7.

Midway through the fourth quarter West Virginia had marched to the Spider 20-yard line. It was fourth down and two yards for a first down. Suddenly a small, unpadding speedster came charging from the sideline. It was "Golden Toe" Thackston.

The crowd was tense as the ball was snapped from center and placed down on the kicking tee. "Goldie" came roaring up to kick the ball. It sailed end-over-end through the air and through the goal posts to give the Mounties their first win of the season.

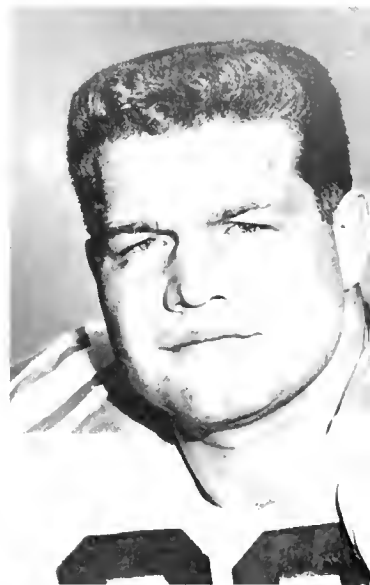

The Mountaineers hit the road to seek their second win. Their target, George Washington Colonials.

The feeling arose that the Colonials would be fairly easy, but the Colonials have other ideas.

George Washington brought a flashy, determined team on the field.

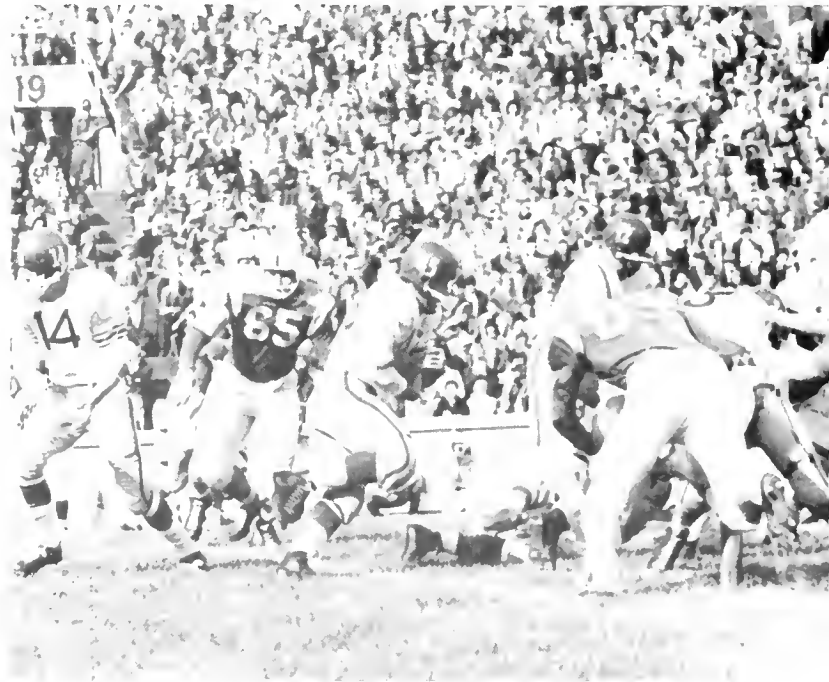

West Virginia scored first to make the George Washingtons hungry for blood that much more. The Colonials came back in fury to tie the score at 7-7.

The two teams butted heads and played honest hard football the remaining part of the game.

West Virginia drove to the Colonial 15-yard line. Seconds remaining, Lewis sends in his "Golden Toe" to bring the game out of the fire. The ball was down on the tee and again "Big, little John" put the pigskin through the uprights to pull out another West Virginia victory.

West Virginia traveled to New England to take on the fighting team at Boston University.

It had been raining for three days and the rain kept falling through the game.

Lewis had to depend on his backs to win this game. This was not a situation a placekicker would be of much help.

The two mighty powers played around in the mud during most of the game. West Virginia had the ball within Boston's 20-yard line several times during the night, but would lose steam and sputter out.

In the late stages of the fourth quarter Boston punted. The Mounties put the ball in play on their own 10-yard line. The Mountaineers ran two plays and did not go anywhere. On the third play the ball carrier fumbled the ball and Boston recovered with 15 seconds to go. Boston scored and added the conversion with five seconds to go. We lost this one 7-0.

Homecoming weekend came to the University and with it the growling Pitt Panthers.

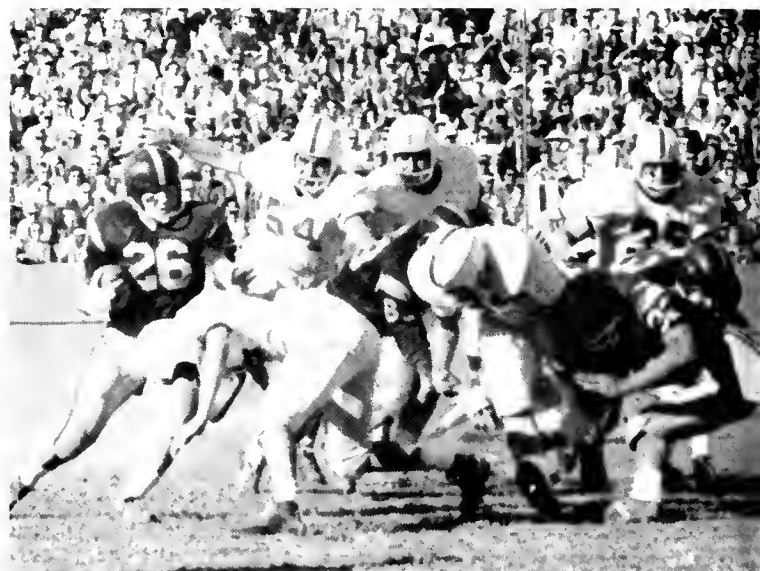

This game is usually rated a toss-up. Anything can happen in a rivalry as old as this one is.

In this game West Virginia scored as many touchdowns against heavily-favored Pitt as it had in four games against the not-so-tough part of the schedule. The 23-15 victory was certainly the greatest of all Homecoming games played on Mountaineer Field.

The big upset was significant for two reasons: It eased the remembrance of Pitt's great 26-7 victory over the "almost fabulous" West Virginia team of 1955, when the Panthers completely outplayed West Virginia's All-American candidates (Sam Huff and Bruce Bosely). And it solidified the belief, begun during the Art Lewis regime, that West Virginia "Always has a chance" against Pitt.

West Virginia played a near perfect game. Everything Danny Williams (West Virginia quarterback) did was right—none of his six punts was run back; a 47-yard punt went out of bounds on the 1, setting up a West Virginia touchdown. Even an interception of Carmen Pomponio amounted to a 39-yard "punt" that put Pitt in a hole.

Never before had West Virginia intercepted so many (5) of so few (14) passes, and the victim was All-American candidate Ivan "the Terrible" Tonicic. Tonicic's favorite target, end Mike Ditka, spent a day about as miserable as the weather was.

The Mountaineers' football player in name only, place-kicker John Thackston, booted the field goal that sank the Pitt Panthers.

They said West Virginia could not do it, but they did. They were approaching the three toughest teams on the schedule and all were nationally ranked and undefeated, Syracuse (National Champs), Penn State and Southern California.

The men of the Gold and Blue journeyed to the State of New York to take on the Orangemen of Syracuse.

Fears of the worst came true as Floyd Schwartzwalder's big, strong and enthusiastic Orange team jumped on the sluggish Mountaineers by scoring 30 points in the first half and adding 14 more points on in the second half.

West Virginia was plagued all afternoon by the Syracuse backfield, Baker, Swedes, and Ernie Davis, and by one lineman in particular, Roger Davis. All made the All-Opponent Team.

We were outclassed and the only thing we could do was wait for the clock to run out.

The following week undefeated Penn State led by All-American Richie Lucas came to Mountaineer Field.

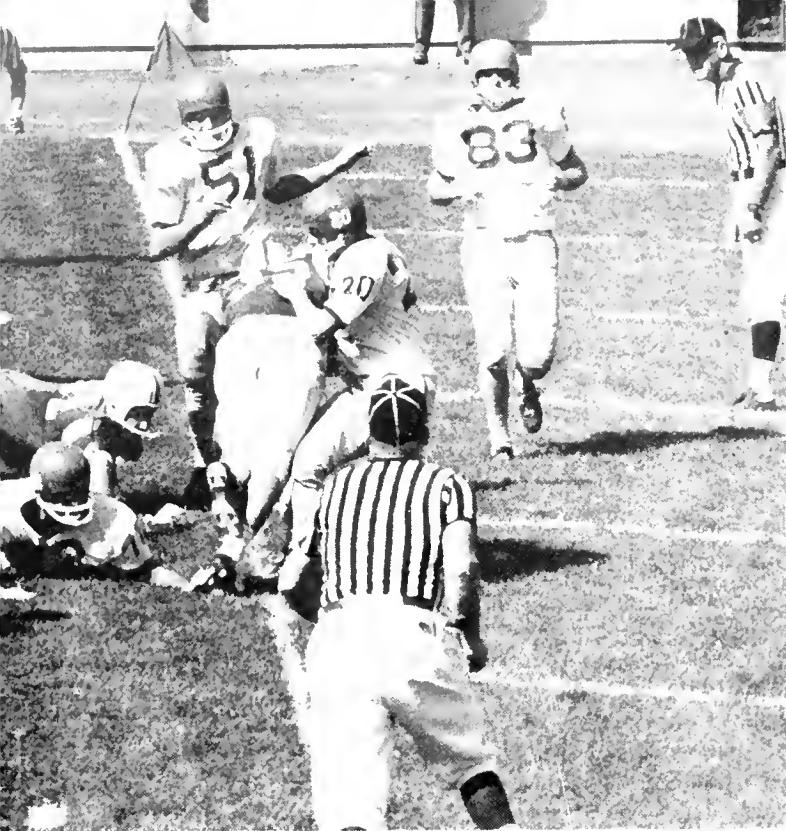

Many people thought that West Virginia may still have been reeling from a 44-0 defeat, worst in eight years, hung on them at Syracuse.

Penn State used their second string during most of the game. This proved to be just enough. We were again swept under a tide of an undefeated team, 28-10.

Time after time Penn State backs could be seen in the defensive backfield.

There wasn't much a person could do against a "crack" team.

Run-ups against the nation's great college teams reduced the Mountaineers to a virtual fight for their lives, but their followers in the Los Angeles Coliseum were proud of the terrific battle waged by Bill "Hard Coal" Lopasky and his mates for 3½ periods. Starting the game in 88-degree heat, the Mountaineers held Southern California to a 7-0 score at the half, made five first downs in the third quarter against the highly ranked Trojan defense, and trailed 14-0 midway through the final quarter when the Trojan racehorses put across three touchdowns against their tiring opponent.

In this game Lopasky took on Mike McKeever of Southern California and participated in 14 tackles to McKeever's 16.

Southern Cal was the first "Mountie" opponent this season to try for two points by rushing and made them twice.

Although the score was 36-0, our boys played a fighting ball game.

We finally got back to home field and territory, but along with that came the men of Virginia Tech and along with them came Carroll Dale, an end. Tech dumped us 12-0.

Our boys, tired from the ordeal past, could not get going to get the punch to win.

Dale constantly went up in the air to "snag" passes all afternoon. Through his brilliant offensive play, Carroll was put on the West Virginia All-Opponent team.

This game marked the end of the reign of the Southern Conference for West Virginia. The longest conference winning streak in the nation was stopped at 30 games.

The last game was played on Mountaineer Field against The Citadel.

West Virginia took an early 14-0 lead in the first half. All seemed to be going smoothly until quarterback Nettles got spirit into his team. He "rolled out" and passed until the end of game. He executed his plays well and by the time the dust had cleared Citadel had beaten the "Mounties" 20-14.

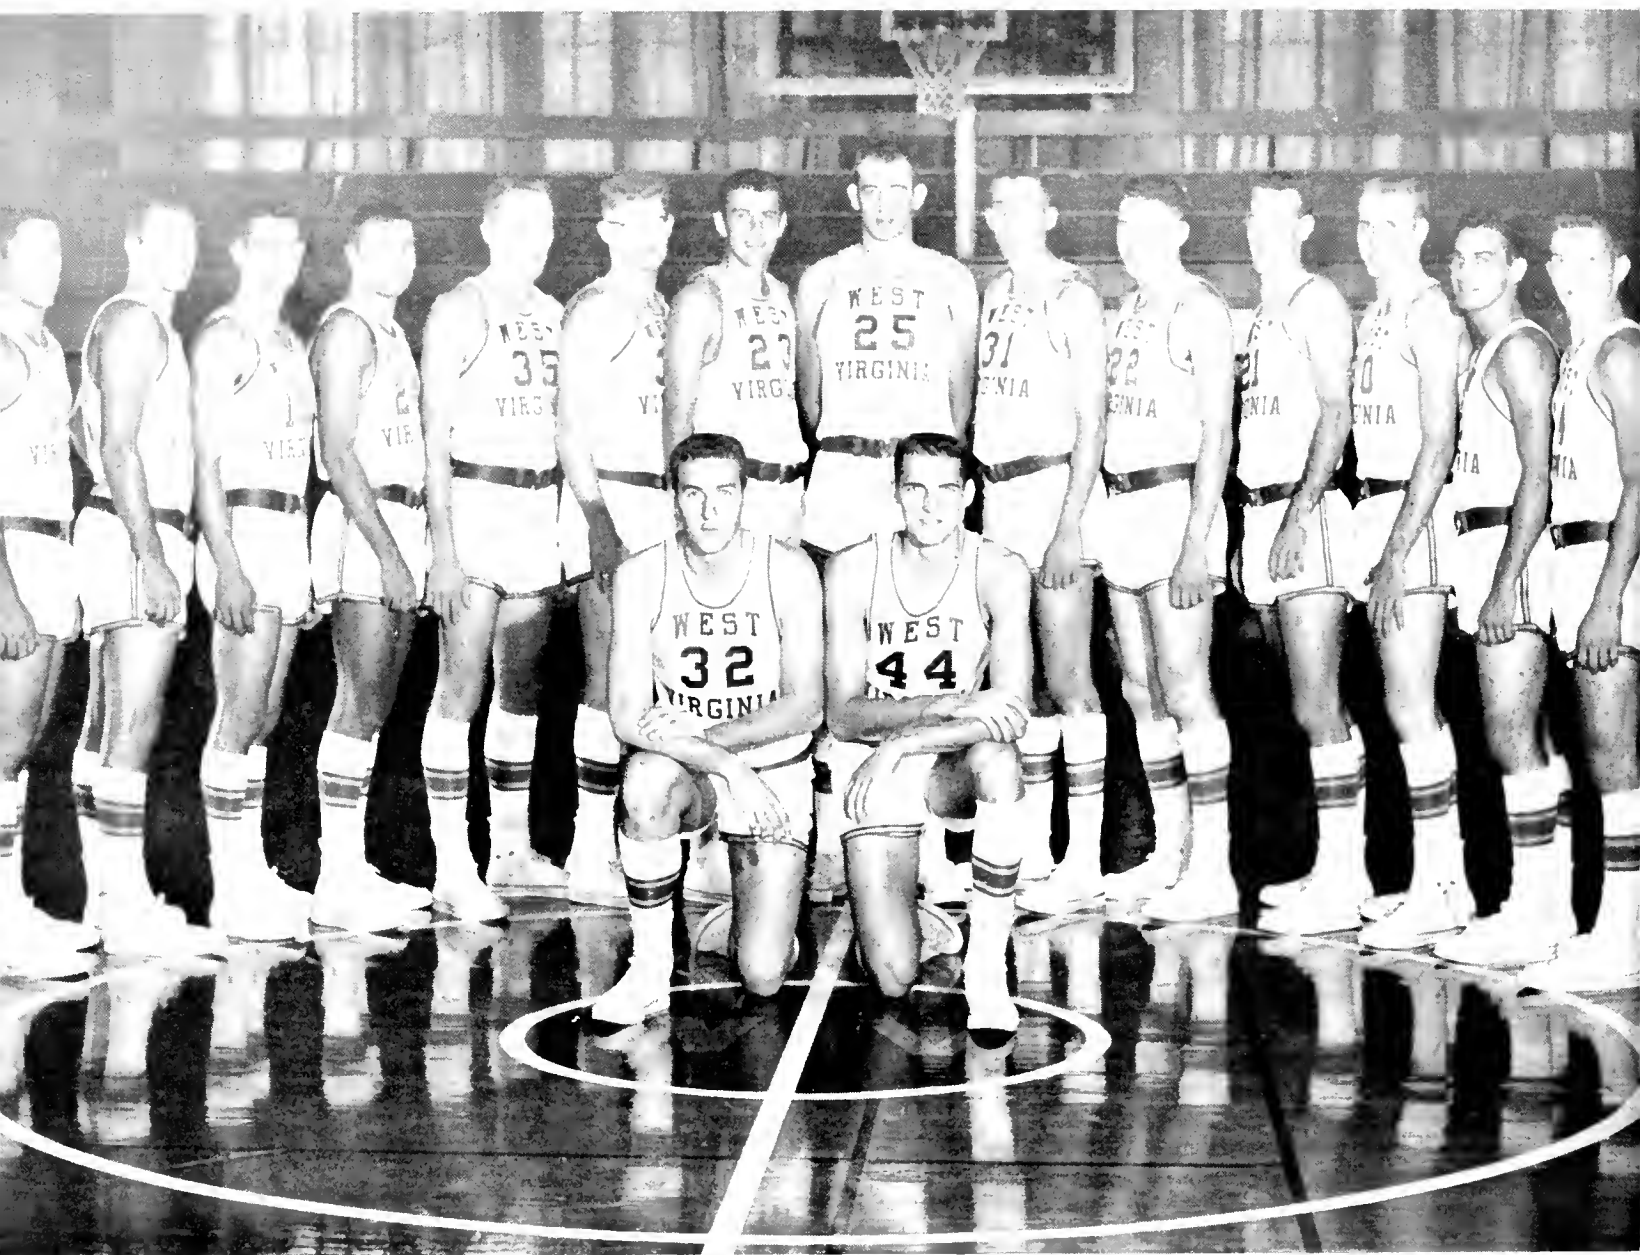

AND AWAY HE GOES. U.S.C. moves out as Timmerman, Rider and Wirth try to stop the play.

HEY GUYS, WHERE ARE YOU? Jim Ritchie looks for help while surrounded by Furman players.

BUTCH GOODE
Senior Guard

Bob Brachman, San Francisco Examiner: Make no mistakes. West goes with the Luisettis, the Pollards, the Golas, the Robertsons, et al. To see him is to believe this 6'3" court magician belongs on everyone's all-time college All-American.

Bob Furillo, Los Angeles Herald & Express: They say if you live long enough you get to see the impossible . . . the darndest play I ever saw on a court . . . He went up on the boards to take a rebound away from two straining Stanford players. Almost in the same motion, Jerry whipped the ball three-quarters of the distance down the court to teammate Lee Patrone, then stumbled to the floor. Patrone dribbled twice and missed an easy lay-up. As the ball came off the rim, a huge tanned hand came out of nowhere to stuff it in. It was West, of course.

Larry Boeck, Louisville Courier-Journal: Jerry West bled from the nose but it wasn't anything compared to the way he made Kentuckians bleed from the heart.

Ronald Green, Charlotte News: West, wiping blood from his face, took rebounds off the boards in bunches, fired in baskets from every angle and put up a steel defense although he had three fouls riding him. The baby-faced West Virginia wonder took a terrific physical beating but repaid it in kind with another of his tremendous performances. . . . A lot of his baskets bordered on the unbelievable.

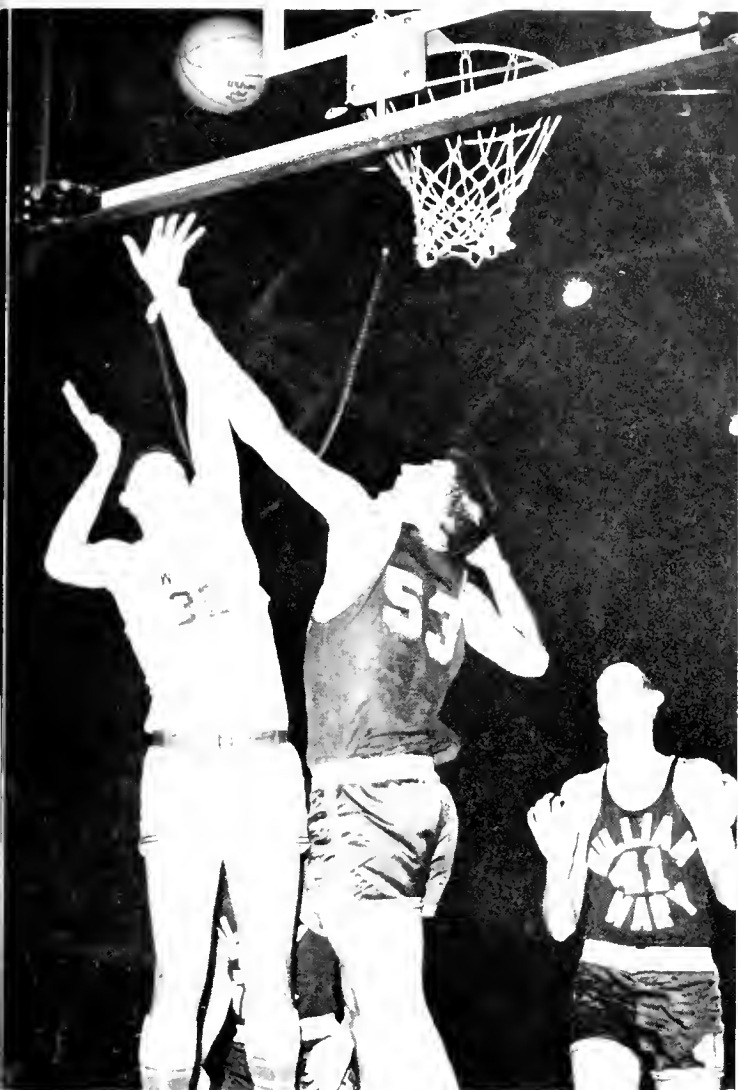

Adolph Rupp, Kentucky Coach: The kid has uncanny instinct. He seems to be standing around out there, then pssst, he's got the ball and there he goes. I just wish everybody could see that kid play basketball. It's a treat.

Red Manning, Duquesne Coach: West is the most unselfish All-American I've ever seen.

John Wooden, U.C.L.A. Coach: There just aren't any better basketball players than West. He's one of the greatest of this or any other era.

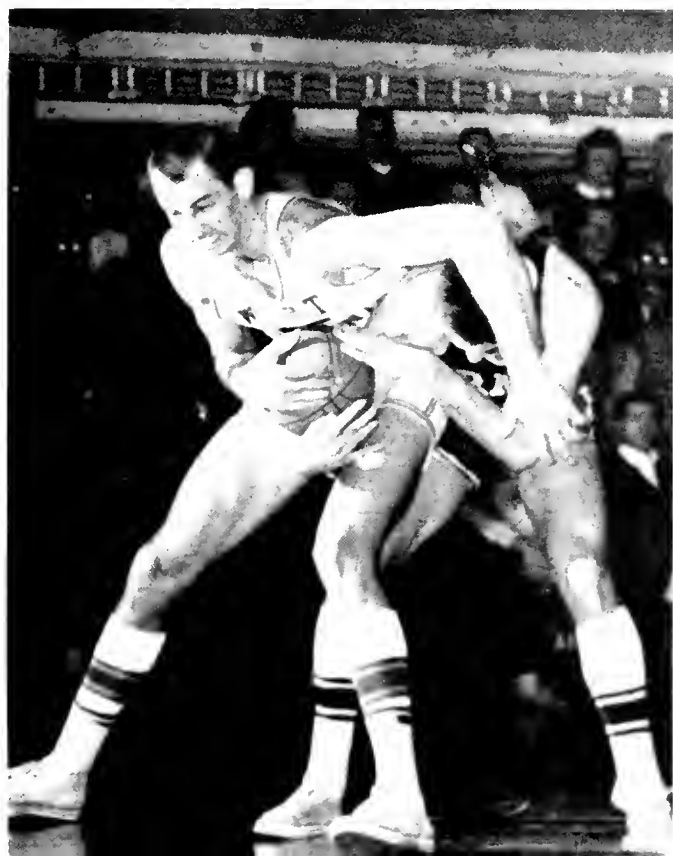

George Raveling, Villanova Captain: I've been playing college basketball three years. I guess I've been in the South about six times. There's never been serious trouble, but some times I've heard remarks about my race or religion. But there was nothing like that in Morgantown. And I think it was because Jerry West made it a point, right from the start, to make us feel at ease. When we met at midcourt before the game, his handshake was a sincere one. Whenever we lined up near each other on the foul lane, he'd say something funny or make some comment about the game. When I fouled out, he came after me and shook my hand.

Pete Newell, California Coach: Jerry West's greatness never was better exemplified than in the manner in which he played (losing to California). Never did he allow himself to lose the wonderful court composure we all admire, and start to play for himself. It is easier to see the true champion in adversity than in favorable circumstances. Jerry more than stood the test.

THE MIGHTY MOUNTAINEERS ARE HERE; Co-Captain Willie Akers leads the team onto the court.

NO SWEAT COACH, NOBODYS EVEN NEAR HIM; Lee Patrone sinks a layup while Jim Ritchie looks on.

Before the season began many people throughout the State of West Virginia predicted that the "Mounties" would be lucky to win twenty games during this past season.

After the smoke from the basketball wars had cleared, West Virginia wore a sparkling 26-5 record. It proves the point; if a team has got enough desire, it will come through victoriously.

Jerry West had plenty of help behind him in Jim Warren, Lee Patrone, Willie Akers, Jim Ritchie along with Paul Popovich, Joe Posch and Paul Miller coming off the bench to put spark into the game. We must not forget the slow-talking mentor, Fred Schaus.

The "Mounties" encountered Tennessee on the home court. The Volunteers were respected as a tough ball club. Last season West Virginia had a hectic time beating Tennessee. This year was a different story. West Virginia won hands down, 93-78.

The next two games took the Schausmen to the south to invade The Citadel and Furman. West Virginia had a ragged beginning, but won both contests easily.

The "Mounties" then came home for three games before going into the Kentucky Invitational. Richmond, Penn State, and V.M.I. were the foes. West Virginia won again.

West Virginia dared into the land of the bluegrass sporting a 6-0 record. St. Louis was the first block in a string of victories. The "Mounties" were up against a highly-ranked tough Billikan team. West Virginia squeezed out an 87-86 victory and went on to beat Kentucky the next night 79-70.

In the Kentucky game, West broke his nose from a stray elbow in the first half and felt three more blows on the same spot, but he gave an increasingly greater performance, scoring 19 of his 33 points in the second half. The other hero was Lee Patrone, husky junior guard who drove through the defense numerous times and scored 21 points. Coach Adolph Rupp of Kentucky told him: "Son, you broke old Uncle Adolph's back tonight."

An unsung hero of the tournament and of the season was Willie Akers. Willie held St. Louis' giant Bob Nordman (6-10, 270 lbs.) in check and caused Kentucky's Bill Jennings to foul out in 20 minutes time.

Jerry West bled from the nose, but Kentucky bled from the heart as the West Virginia Mountaineers took the richly rewarding tournament away from the Wildcats for the second time in three years.

The Mountaineers then traveled to the West Coast to play in the Los Angeles Classic. West Virginia played good ball against two stiff defensive teams, Stanford and UCLA. They won both games easily, but hit rough weather when they took on California for the championship. California beat us 65-45.

The next week the "Mounties" got back on the winning road. They spanked Furman 95-79 for their 55th straight conference game and their 38th consecutive win at home.

The Schausmen beat their next five foes, Penn State, William & Mary, Virginia, Villanova and Pitt. Then the roof fell in as William & Mary avenged their loss and snapped a 36-game winning streak in the conference. The Indians came whooping and scalping to upset the "Mounties" 94-86.

This game made the Mountaineers mad. In the next three games, they averaged 100 points by beating V.M.I. 101-71, George Washington 101-79, and New York University 98-69. After this great comeback the Schausmen journeyed to Philadelphia to tackle St. John's, but came back empty handed as they were handed their third loss.

West Virginia came back to slaughter Richmond 103-57, but got caught by a Colonial team by a slim score of 97-93. The "Mounties" came home to close out the season beating Pitt 89-75 and extending their home wins to 43 games in a row.

The Mountaineers went into the Southern Conference with a 21-3 record and second-seeded. The first two games were breezed through with wins over V.M.I. and William & Mary. In the championship game, West Virginia faced favored Virginia Tech. After two spine-chilling halves, West Virginia had beaten Tech 82-72 to advance to the first round of NCAA competition against Navy.

At New York, the Schausmen faced a highly drilled Middy team. The first half was filled with excitement. The game was even through the first half, but when West Virginia came out on the floor for the second half the Midshipmen fell overboard. West Virginia won 94-86 to advance to the Eastern Regionals to face New York University for the second time.

The "Mounties" faced a high-spirited N.Y.U. team led by big Tom Sanders. West Virginia led New York most of the game. At the end of the regular playing game time, the Violets had tied the score. West Virginia and New York bumped heads in a five-minute overtime period. As the dust rolled away at the end of the period, the Violets from New York had beat West Virginia 82-81. The next night the "Mounties" played St. Joseph's in the consolation game. The score, 106-100, was the highest combined scoring totals in the history of the Eastern Regionals with West Virginia winning, ending a brilliant season with a 26-5 record.

This team was marked with sportsmanship, teamwork, spirit, and a will to win. "He tackled the thing that couldn't be done—and he did it."

LIFE WEEK

Life Week, with a theme this year of "The Status Seekers," is when students set aside time and analyze their lives. YWCA and YMCA annually sponsor this three-day program featuring faculty speakers at the various sorority houses and dorms at a combined desert with the men and women of the campus.

The climax of the program was the Wednesday night convocation with Vance Packard discussing his recent best seller, "The Status Seekers." Life week stresses wholesome living and the religious aspects of college life.

KAPPA PHI

Oriented around the high purpose: "Every Methodist woman in the university world today . . . a leader in the Church of tomorrow," Kappa Phi, Methodist Girl's Club, was formed in 1925.

In addition to providing a wholesome atmosphere for fellowship and worship, this organization actively participates in service projects including clothing drives, maintaining a Church nursery and in frequent visits to various rest homes and hospitals of the community.

Social activities include the Rose Tea, Spring Rose Formal, and a Big and Little Sister party. Each year an award is presented to the outstanding pledge.

SIGMA THETA EPSILON

"To organize life around Jesus Christ as Lord and Master of our lives . . . to govern each act by a high sense of honor . . . to cultivate Christian friendships among men of Methodist preference"; these are ideals upon which Sigma Theta Epsilon was founded and for which it lives.

Mu Chapter with its 42 members has rendered assistance to many local churches and settlement houses through its effective deputations team while scheduling numerous activities at Wesley Foundation. A social calendar is filled with various activities including STE-Kappa Phi Spring Dance, Pledge-Active Banquet, and several parties.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

HARRIET HANAVER
President

HARRIET BAULD
Vice-President

JANE EVANS
Secretary

Once every Tuesday, when the clock's striking four
 A group of young ladies take the Mountainlair floor
 The Executive Council is meeting, you see
 Two Harriets of course and Jane making three.
 The various activities the trio is scanning.
 They're also engaged in the mountain of planning,
 That makes every event at the 'Lair such a treat,
 And we must admit that that's quite a feat.

HOUSE COMMITTEE

The 'Lair House Committee looks after Who's Who Fixes the Salutes Board and other things too,
 Like in October when that evening comes round
 When witches on broomsticks and goblins abound,
 Then the girls hold a party that really is keen
 To disperse all the gloom of ole Halloween.
 And in the Spring, when the 'Lairs Birthday is here,
 They throw a house party to start its New Year.

DANCE COMMITTEE

When the Dance Committee knows there's a job to be done,

They take it in stride and have lots of fun.

Their T.G.I.F. parties are surely the greatest

With rock and roll music that's really the latest.

They plan all the dances and hire the best bands,

So when it is late and the dancing is through,

Thank these great guys they planned it for you.

FILM AND OUTING

Another committee that's right on the go
Is the one that chooses the Mountainlair show
Every Monday at three, at six, and at nine,
You can come in and view a movie that's fine,
Brigadoon and Compulsion to name only two.
That this committee has chosen especially for you,
And with their outings, they're right on the ball,
As they try to find something appealing to all.

FINE ARTS

We can't forget Ann, in the field of Fine Art
Who, with her committee, plays an important part
In making us aware of a cultural side
Of sound education that can't be denied.
The committees exhibits, art contests, and such
Are designed for the student, to keep them in touch
With the world of Fine Art, the field of Design
To help us appreciate even the severest of line.

DECORATION

The Decoration Committee that works at the 'Lair
Adds color and gaiety to each social affair.
They order crepe paper in enormous amount
To be used in more ways than we can recount.
Such uses as ceilings, back drops, and such,
When color is needed and the artistic touch.
We feel that without them, our dances would fail
And if that didn't happen, they'd be rather pale.

SPECIAL EVENTS

"Pete" Marshall's around for Special Events,
With a committee of five, that never relents,
Seeking modeling talent for the 'Lair Fashion Show,
A task that keeps everyone right on the go.
Then at the Mix, when the Frosh seem alone,
She welcomes them in, makes them feel right at home.
Foreign students as well, have cause to be warmed,
And thankful as well, that this committee was formed.

TOURNAMENTS

We have scheduled contests, they're held every week
With various trophies the ambitious may seek.
We have swimming, ping pong and bowling too,
But if you're a thinker, then bridge is for you.
Now for those who like quiet, there's a chess interlude,
In fact we have something to fit every mood.
If you're single, come single, if not bring your wife,
Yes, come in and enter, get a kick out of life.

MILITARY BALL

One of the most colorful social events of the year is the Military Ball. The cadet officers appear with freshly shined shoes, their uniforms bright, and their best black bow ties.

Couples danced to the music of Tommy Dorsey's band under the direction of Lee Castle and chatted with superior officers at intermission to highlight a gay evening.

Sue Smith and Carolyn Lawson were named to Queen Sonja Metheny's court and Pershing Rifles performed at intermission.

PERSHING RIFLES

Company S-1 of Pershing Rifles was organized on the W.V.U. campus in 1956 and has since grown to a total strength of almost 100 men. With its purpose "to provide appropriate recognition for high military proficiency and tactical skills," Pershing Rifles projects include the exhibition drill meets, the annual bivouac, mock battles, and service booths for Homecoming information. Highly complimented for its proficiency in drill, Pershing Rifles has established a fine reputation in its drill exhibitions at the Cadet Hop, Military Ball, and in numerous instances among inter-collegiate competitions.

The Army ROTC, national honor society, was founded on the campus in 1916, with the purpose of uniting in closer relationship the military departments of American Universities and Colleges and to encourage and foster the essential qualities of good and efficient officers. Membership is limited to those junior and senior classmen who possess a high degree of officer potentiality and qualities of leadership.

Special projects include an Honor Guard for the Buckwheat Festival, providing an Honor Guard for Homecoming Weekend, and conducting flag-raising ceremonies before all football games. Further activities of the group also include the Homecoming Weekend information booth, the annual Scabbard and Blade Award to the most outstanding ROTC drill company and the Scabbard and Blade Banquet before the Military Ball.

Established in 1950, the Arnold Air Society is dedicated to furthering the purpose, tradition and concept of the United States Air Force. Its members seek through word and deed to promote the spirit of the Air Force as a means of national defense and to create a close and a more efficient relationship among the AFROTC cadets.

Special service projects include the flag-raising ceremonies at football games and participation in the half-time activities of Homecoming Weekend. The primary social activity of the group is a banquet which is held before the Military Ball.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

We, of the 1960 MONTICOLA, have endeavored to present you with a book that you will enjoy the first time you open it and every time you open it in years to come. In addition to the initial pleasure we hope our book presents, we hope we have captured the high spots of the 1959-60 school year in such a manner as to preserve them for you so that you can recall this outstanding year. This has been the aim and purpose of the staff of the 1960 MONTICOLA.

However, this would not be possible without the aid and advice of many persons. Since it would be impossible to enumerate their many services here, we must restrict ourselves to mentioning their names and including our sincere thanks.

Ever meet a Doubting Thomas?

A college senior once remarked to a Bell System interviewer: "A telephone career must be a mirage. I hear talk about fabulous training, fascinating work, grade-A job security, and rapid advancement in management. Sounds a bit too rosy. What's the real story?"

The interviewer knew mere talk wouldn't sell a skeptic. So he showed him some "profiles" of recent college graduates who had enjoyed that fabulous training, had worked at intriguing jobs, and had won early management promotions.

Our once-skeptical friend has been with the Bell System 3 years now—and is currently supervising the work of 55 other telephone people.

We've converted a host of Doubting Thomases. Whether doubtful or not, you'll learn a lot about rewarding telephone careers by talking with our interviewer when he visits your campus. Also read the Bell Telephone booklet on file in your Placement Office.

"YOU CANNOT SURPASS AMERICAN GLASS"

Freedom Isn't "Free"

Our graduates have an opportunity to enjoy a life of freedom, plenty and individual choice — privileges earned by our forefathers.

However, we have a responsibility to perpetuate these privileges. They are not given us "for free". We must earn them ourselves. Individual devotion to The American Way is as important today as it was in 1776.

Today's graduates must shoulder this responsibility, or there will be no freedoms to bequeath tomorrow's students.

As Goethe, the poet, said, "What you have inherited from your fathers, earn over again for yourselves or it will not be yours."
